At the annual meeting of the Central Women's Christian Temperance union held yesterday afternoon in Guernsey hall, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. H. Dunning; corresponding secretary, Miss Anna Smith; recording secretary, Miss Raub; treasurer, Mrs. Mary Whitmore. All of those officers were re-elected with the exception of Mrs. Whitmore, who succeeds Mrs. E. M. Towkesbury, who recently moved to Buffalo.

The following delegates to the county convention to be held next Tuesday in Moscow were chosen: Mrs. Margaret Roberts, Mrs. L. T. Beane, Mrs. A. R. Raub and Mrs. Henry Little. The alternates elected were: Mrs. Mary Munson, Mrs. DeGraw, Mrs. Arja Williams and Mrs. George Field.

Mrs. Joseph Chandler, superintendent of Sabbath observance, reported having distributed 17,000 pages of literature, 250 Sabbath readings and 49 Lam's Hymns during the year. The flower committee reported having given out 111 text cards and 126 bouquets. They visited sixteen poor and sick families and two hospitals, on the occasion of the latest visit distributing bouquets to each of the inmates. The treasurer's report showed that there is a balance on hand of $76, after paying all bills and claims. This was considered very encouraging. It was announced that Mrs. Essenden, of Massachusetts, a state lecturer and temperance worker of national prominence, will deliver a series of temperance lectures in this county in the near future. She will also conduct a parliamentary drill in the Green Ridge library under the auspices of the Green Ridge Women's club.

ASYLUM FOR THE FEEBLE MINDED

Effort to Be Made to Have Legislation Appropriate Money for One for This Part of the State.

It is very likely that at the opening of legislative session a bill will be introduced, providing for the building of an asylum for feeble-minded children, to be used for the accommodation of young unfortunates in Northeastern Pennsylvania. At present there are but two institutions of this nature in the state, one at Elwyn, near Philadelphia, and the other in Polk, Venango county, in the western part of the state. Both of these asylums are at present crowded, and it is impossible for them to take any more patients, as a result of which there are several poor weak-minded boys and girls at the Hillside Home, where there are no facilities for proper treatment. Frequently cases of this nature are presented at poor board meetings, and the applicants turned away with their requests ungratified, on account of the limited means afforded for taking care of the patients. This condition exists throughout all Northeastern Pennsylvania. The poor board districts of Blakely, Carbondale and Northern Luzerne, all feel the need keenly of a home for feeble-minded children, and the authorities of this territory have conferred with the local directors regarding the matter, with the result that a quiet and systematic plan of campaign has been mapped out, and no stone is being left unturned to bring about a successful end to the movement.

The asylum at Elwyn is used for the feeble-minded boys and girls of Eastern Pennsylvania, and the Polk institution accommodates patients principally from Western Pennsylvania. In this way the central portion of the state and the natives of the "common sections" are somewhat crowded out. The Polk school accommodates 585 pupils, the minimum age of a patient being 5 years, and the maximum 21. The institution is largely in the nature of a training school, the inmates being divided into regular classes and being afforded daily instruction by teachers specially qualified for the work. The bill to be introduced would provide for a home to be erected in the vicinity of Scranton, and the building asked for would not necessarily be as large and commodious as the other two, but would have a capacity of between 275 and 300 inmates. The bill has already been introduced to lead his influence to the movement and several of the candidates for the legislature have been approached on the subject and have guaranteed their support.

COUNCILMAN ARRESTED.

John Mullin, of Avoca, Accused of Assaulting Conductor. John Mullin, a councilman of Avoca borough, was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by Alderman Howe, charging him with assaulting Arthur Phinney, one of the Scranton Railway company's conductors. Mullin entered bail before "Squire Fitzsimmons, of Avoca, in the sum of $500.

It is alleged that last Thursday the defendant boarded Phinney's car and then became very abusive. Angry words passed between the two and then Mullin undertook to thrash the conductor and struck him. HEARING WAS POSTPONED. Bribery Investigation Put Over Till Friday Night. The hearing in the bribery cases brought against Councilmen T. C. McKinney and James J. Grier and Carl W. McKinney, which was to have been held last night in Alderman Fuller's office, was postponed until Friday night at 7:30 o'clock by reason of the absence of some of the witnesses. It is understood that one of the witnesses on Friday night will be ex-Mayor James G. Bulley, who is expected to tell something about what he knows regarding the transaction mentioned by Wade M. Finn last Friday night.

MAYOR GAVE THEM A SURPRISE PARTY

McCAFFERTY SAW THAT THE JIG WAS UP.

With His Wife He Was Arrested for Keeping a Speakeasy but He Declared Most Earnestly That They Had Not Sold a Drop for Twelve Months—When Contrary Evidence Was Produced They Wilited and Paid a Fine.

Mayor Moir has lately had numerous complaints about a speakeasy conducted at 112 Cumberland street by Patrick McCafferty and yesterday he decided to arrest the gentleman, having sent out several of his agents the night before to secure the evidence. The aforementioned agents observed that McCafferty did the dispensing at the bar, and upon being informed of this, his honor, in order to make no mistake, issued warrants for both Patrick and his spouse. They were arrested early last evening and were arraigned before under mayor, who, expecting their arrival, came down shortly after 7 o'clock. The two prisoners were very indignant. They sell intoxicating liquors! They, Mr. and Mrs. McCafferty, conduct, a speakeasy! Why, the very idea of the thing was absurd. Yes, positively ridiculous. It was spite work pure and simple. They were not prepared to say that they didn't sell intoxicants some time ago, but they hadn't sold a drop for twelve long months. Yes, they would swear to that. Twelve long months. And so on, and so on. Their protestations of innocence might have convinced the mayor if he didn't know a few more things than they thought he knew. "You're sure you haven't sold anything for a year?" he asked. "Yes, we're sure," replied Mr. McCafferty.

"Well, perhaps this gentleman will inform us differently," said his honor as he directed Sergeant Deiter to bring in from another room one of his two witnesses. The couple's faces grew long when they saw him and they grew longer still when he testified to having bought beer and ale from Mrs. McCafferty at 9 o'clock Monday night. The other witness testified to the same facts. "Yes, and we've got a little of the ale," said the mayor, as he pulled out a bottle of that beverage from under his desk. "That's the shortest twelve months I ever heard of."

Mrs. McCafferty averred that she had never seen either of the two witnesses, but her liege lord, realizing that they were up against it promptly paid over the $50 fine imposed by the mayor. "I don't perhaps this gentleman will inform us differently," said his honor as he directed Sergeant Deiter to bring in from another room one of his two witnesses. The couple's faces grew long when they saw him and they grew longer still when he testified to having bought beer and ale from Mrs. McCafferty at 9 o'clock Monday night. The other witness testified to the same facts. "Yes, and we've got a little of the ale," said the mayor, as he pulled out a bottle of that beverage from under his desk. "That's the shortest twelve months I ever heard of."

DEATH OF WATTS COOKE

He Was General Superintendent of the D. L. & W. Company in This City Thirty Years Ago.

Watts Cooke, of Paterson, N. J., president of the Passaic Rolling Mill and general superintendent of the Delaware and Western railroad in this city, died yesterday, after several months' illness. He was very well known in this city, where he spent between sixteen and seventeen years of his life, during his connection with the Delaware and Western railroad in this city, and a few years later was promoted to the general superintendency.

E. P. Kingsbury, who is a brother-in-law of the deceased, was notified of the death yesterday afternoon and left for Paterson, Mr. Cooke leaves many friends among the older residents of Scranton, and in Paterson his death has cast a gloom over the entire city, as he had endeavored to do all by his many philanthropic acts. He was founder and president of the Passaic Rolling Mill company, one of the leading industrial organizations of Paterson, and was also prominently identified with several of the large banks of the city.

During the last thirty years he acquired a name as one of the most popular citizens of the New Jersey city, and one term was elected to the board of aldermen, which corresponds to our council, and gave him a wide representation. Among his many well-known deeds of benevolence and material contributions to the growth of Paterson, was the establishing of a church in a section of the city. Mr. Cooke is survived by his wife and eight children, and two married sisters. He was born sixty-eight years ago in Paterson, and spent his early childhood there. Even as a boy he was of a mechanical turn of mind, and when he became old enough to choose, he decided to enter the great mechanical world, and there he gained himself a name. He served his apprenticeship at the Paterson Locomotive works, and when twenty-one years of age came to Scranton, as master mechanic of the Cooke Coupling and Machine works, at Paterson, which bear a national reputation.

THE TRADERS NATIONAL BANK.

Savings Department. THE TRADERS NATIONAL BANK. Cor. Wyoming and Spruce.

Watts Cooke filled the position of master mechanic for several years and gave splendid satisfaction by the very capable way in which he attended to his duties.

It was during this time that he met with an accident which deprived him of the use of his right arm. He was testing a new engine, and, falling off, his arm was caught under the wheels and so badly injured that it was found necessary to remove it. In 1885 he was married to Miss Emma Kressler, a daughter of David K. Kressler. A beautiful wedded life was the result of their union, and their domestic relations were of a kind that aroused the universal admiration of their friends.

In 1864 Mr. Cooke was made general superintendent of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, and for six years filled this position. He then resigned and moved to Paterson. He was succeeded by W. F. Hallstead.

All of Mr. Cooke's brothers died before him, and he is survived by his wife and the following children: John K. Cooke, Mrs. A. C. Fairchild, Mrs. Robert Coulson, Pres. of the Oakley Cooke, E. Payson Cooke, all of Paterson. Two married sisters, residing in Paterson, also survive their brother.

The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

FAVOR GIVING HIM A STATED SALARY

Carpenters' Convention Took Favorable Action in the Matter of Compensating General President.

The report of the committee on amendments to the constitution, which has occupied the last several days of the biennial convention of the Carpenters and Joiners, was finally adopted yesterday afternoon, after the delegates spent the entire day in debating and arguing the advisability of adopting various of the minor innovations introduced yesterday morning by the committee.

The question of a salary for the general president was decided, and it was voted to grant this official a yearly stipend. The amendments committee advised this, and after considerable discussion by the delegates the convention confirmed the recommendation. This is, in effect, subject to the recommendation of the local unions throughout the country, as indeed all the measures are that are acted upon by the delegates. This will be the first salary a president of the union has ever received, as heretofore his expenses alone have been paid.

Today the finance committee will render its report. S. H. Meyer, of Cincinnati, O., is the chairman, and the other members are Frank Gilliard, of New York; S. E. Potts, of Boston; Peter McLoughlin, of Philadelphia; P. N. Guerin, of Troy.

Secretary-Treasurer Thomas I. Kidd and Richard Braunsweig, of Chicago, and Charles Gabelle, of St. Louis, the three envoys to the convention from the United Woodworkers' union, have now left the city. They conferred with a special committee, of which A. Hartman, of St. Louis, was chairman, and the results of this meeting will probably be reached at today's session.

A complimentary concert was tendered the delegates at the Coyne house last night by P. Mulhern, of the firm of Mulhern & Judge, Bauer's orchestra rendered a splendid programme.

HARFORD FAIR OPENS MONDAY.

It Is One of Leading Events of the Kind.

The Harford fair begins today. This is an annual event looked forward to with great interest by the residents of Susquehanna, Wayne, Wyoming and the upper portions of Lackawanna county. It is always a two days' fair and this year will commence this morning and close tomorrow night. It is held in the borough of Harford, Susquehanna county, situated four miles from Kingsley station, Lackawanna railroad, which is its shipping point. The road from Kingsley to Harford is over a succession of steep hills, but the good road from the two places makes it an interesting ride and one filled with enjoyable sights, running through rural scenery and allowing lungs to be filled with pure mountain air.

This great annual event is looked forward to by from five to six thousand persons with pleasurable anticipations, and it is no wonder to one who has ever attended it. It is a country fair, pure and simple. There are no horse races, no games of chance allowed and liquor is placed under a severe ban. The buildings and grounds are among the finest in the state and to be the handsomest in the state. This is the forty-third fair that has been held in the grove away up on the hills and a prettier spot could not be found.

The exhibition of horses, cattle, sheep, swine and live stock of all kinds; the fruit of the field, orchard and vine; the display of fancy things fabricated by deft feminine fingers, are all set forth to the best advantage. Besides the usual things to be seen at an agricultural exhibition the Harford fair is always sure to introduce some novelty in the way of competition, such as pulling matches, contest for ladies hitching up a horse, a balloon ascension or some like attraction. Prof. L. H. Heighes will this year deliver the annual address. Scrantonians who intend to visit this fair can take the 8:30 or 10:25 a. m. train to Kingsley, where there will be found numerous stages and hacks. The D. L. & W. management will sell excursion tickets at one fare for the round trip at all stations between Scranton and Binghamton. These tickets are good going today and tomorrow and for return until Friday. The day of most interest undoubtedly will be tomorrow, as there are a number of interesting events on the programme for them.

As The Tribune has a large and constantly increasing circulation in Susquehanna county, it will detail a reporter from the office to attend the fair during its continuance, and it will present to its readers each day a full and interesting description of it.

A LARGE FUNERAL.

Remains of Anthony Johnson Laid to Rest.

One of the largest funerals ever seen in Green Ridge was the funeral of the late Anthony Johnson, which was conducted yesterday morning from the family residence on Court street. Mr. Johnson was killed in the trolley car accident on Capouse avenue last Saturday night. A high mass of requiem was solemnized in St. Paul's church and interment was made in the Cathedral cemetery. The Lackawanna brewery, where the deceased was employe, closed down in the morning out of respect to his memory and the employe attended the funeral in a body.

Artistic China.

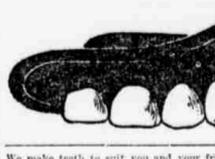

Among the new goods opened last week that have attracted the most attention is a line of Dolliner & Co's French china, mostly hand-painted, one line has a wreath of roses for a border, another has a wreath of roses and gold leaves, on the outer edge is a heavy band of burnished gold, after the old fashioned way of doing things. It was copied from a piece of Beauvais tapestry, they come in odd pieces and in steak and chop sets with covered meat platters, much handsomer than silver and not so expensive. It is good time to select choice novelties for Holiday Gifts.
